President's Message

By: Elizabeth T. Smith
2025 OACTA President

Fall is the time forreengagement.

Fall is settling in. The hurly burly of first days of school, the rescheduling of discovery and trials delayed for vacations and the start up of schedules has everyone running around, wondering where the time has gone. And even though court schedules don't slow down like they did in the "old days" fall always feels like we are just starting everything over again.

We started the season off with another successful golf outing. Many thanks to the sponsors and to all who participated. This was then followed by our participation in a joint service day with the plaintiff lawyers organization, OAJ. We hope to continue a partnership with this organization to foster civility among our lawyers, setting an example for the bar and for the greater community.

Perhaps the most important activity for OACTA is coming your way on November 13 and 14 with OACTA's annual conference and meeting at the Westerville/Polaris Renaissance Hotel. Check out the agenda in this update and note the engaging speakers and topics. And come join us in celebrating this year's well-deserving award honorees who have contributed so much to the profession. We will also honor the next generation of lawyers as we recognize OACTA's scholarship winners. Finally, new officers and new board members will take the helm of this organization and I will become "past."

Leadership Spotlight

OACTA's strength is in the strength of its leadership. Our longtime leaders deserve a spotlight. This edition's spotlight is Jamey Pregon, a long-time member, Past President, former member of the Board of Trustees, and former Chair of the Personal Injury Defense Committee. Jamey is now the Legislative Affairs Chair for OACTA. In this new role, he has been tracking important legislation working its way through the Ohio Statehouse.

"I joined OACTA shortly after I moved to Ohio and began practicing here. Steve Freeze, who is also a Past President of OACTA, urged me to join, and I am very glad that I listened to him. I have never regretted doing so, and now over twenty years later, OACTA is the only professional organization that I have continuously been a member. OACTA has helped me develop as a lawyer, and OACTA has always kept me aware and alert of trends and developments throughout Ohio. The CLEs and Updates are always excellent, but OACTA is a lot more than that. I have met some great friends through OACTA, and I have enjoyed the mentorship, friendship, and comradery with all of OACTA's membership. This is a benefit that I fear is slipping away from our profession, and indeed from all society, as we move into the age of Zoom, remote proceedings, and remote workplaces. There is no substitute for personal interactions with people, and OACTA is filled with a lot of great people. I am truly grateful for the opportunity to meet and work with attorneys across Ohio, and I believe OACTA plays a key role in the betterment of our profession overall. Everyone in the legal profession has a job to do, and by learning to do our job better, it helps to elevate others in the profession as well. I am proud to be a part of OACTA, and I hope we continue to grow as we move into the future."

Jamey is staff counsel for The Cincinnati Insurance Company at its headquarters in Fairfield, Ohio. He practices primarily in southwest Ohio, and his practice areas include personal injury defense, construction law, insurance coverage and bad faith, and civil litigation. OACTA thanks Jamey for his long commitment to OACTA, and the important work he continues to do.
