PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By: John Garvey, III
2016 OACTA President

With the flurry of fiscal year end (for many) and the hustle of holidays fully upon us, I hope you find many moments of peace, tranquility, and family time to lift your spirits this holiday season. On behalf of OACTA, Happy Holidays to you and your families. As is ever the case we have much to be thankful for as another year comes to its end.

Certainly, we are extremely grateful for the memorable 50th Anniversary Celebration Event and Annual Meeting recently concluded in November. We will always owe a significant debt of gratitude to our 50th Anniversary Celebration Event Planning Committee chaired by Greg O'Brien: Stephen V. Freeze, James R. Gallagher, Gary L. Grubler, John M. Hands, Peter J. Hersha, Timothy D. Johnson, James L. Mann, James L. McCrystal, Jr., Gretchen Koehler Mote, Daniel A. Richards, Ronald A. Rispo, Anne Marie Sferra, Carolyn A. Taggart, and Debbie Nunner. Their steady work, endless enthusiasm, and creativity produced an event worthy of the grand history of our organization, while simultaneously helped to truly launch the charitable foundation of OACTA.

We are grateful as well to our 2016 Annual Meeting Program Chair, Michelle Burden, and Program Moderator, Jennifer Becker, for planning and conducting an outstanding Annual Meeting Program, as well as to the lineup of outstanding presenters during the Program. The comments and reviews from attendees and guests were overwhelmingly positive. Likewise, we could not have had the kind of year we had in 2016 without our officer team, our excellent Board of Trustees, our Committee Chairs and Vice-Chairs, our Executive Director, Debbie Nunner, but most importantly, without you, our incredible members.

Thank you for your support throughout 2016. It was a very good year for OACTA. Please continue your support for Brian Kerns, our new president, as he leads us into OACTA'S 51st year and boldly into the second half of our First Century! I've seen an advance copy of the galley proof: You won't want to miss it!
Best wishes again to you and your family for the holiday season!

OACTA celebrated its 50th Anniversary with a fun-filled event at the Ohio Statehouse on November 10th where attorneys and guests from around the state, including 22 former OACTA presidents, gathered to celebrate OACTA's many achievements of the past 50 years. The evening included the presentation of a proclamation from Ohio Senator Kevin Bacon, congratulatory remarks from Ohio Supreme Court Justice Sharon L. Kennedy and recognition from the Defense Research Institute (DRI) Immediate Past President, Laura E. Proctor.

All net proceeds from the event will benefit The OACTA Foundation. Established in 2015, The OACTA Foundation was organized exclusively for charitable and educational purposes. The Foundation funds projects consistent with the mission of OACTA, such as the annual OACTA Diversity Scholarship Program and the National Foundation for Judicial Excellence (NFJE).

Utilizing the Doctrine of Collateral Estoppel to Defeat Legal Malpractice Claims

By: David J. Oberly

I. Introduction

Collateral estoppel precludes the re-litigation, in a second action, of an issue that has been actually and necessarily litigated and determined in a prior action. Importantly, issue preclusion serves as a potential shield that can be used as an absolute defense to a broad array of legal malpractice actions. Two recent Ohio decisions demonstrate the broad applicability of the doctrine with respect to this particular area of civil litigation, and exemplify how issue preclusion can be deployed in litigation to dispose of an action favorably and efficiently, oftentimes without having to undergo the time, effort, and expense of fully litigating a dispute through trial.

CTE Claims - Are You Ready To Tackle Them Head-On Or Will You Be Blindsided?

By: Tom Glassman

Imagine a tsunami of claims alleging serious, objective, and life threatening medical conditions, all stemming from events occurring many years earlier. None identify a specific causal event, and they cast a wide net, targeting multiple defendants over a period of many years. Is this a new John Grisham novel? Is it a resurgence of asbestos litigation? Actually, it is neither. Over the next decade we may well see a wave of chronic traumatic encephalopathy (CTE) claims brought by current and former athletes.

The visceral reaction is to dismiss CTE claims as the NFL's problem, and not look any further. While there is a potential settlement pending in the litigation brought by former NFL players, that is not the end to this story. It is only the first chapter of what may turn out to be a lengthy book. If you stop reading now you will not be ready for the all-out blitz which may be coming.

The next wave of plaintiffs will not be professional athletes. They are ordinary people who competed in sports at the youth, recreational, scholastic, or collegiate levels. Claims will not be limited to football players, and will include hockey, soccer, baseball players, and even cheerleaders. While CTE is usually discussed in conjunction with football, its link to other sports has only been fairly recently asserted. As medical research develops and the plaintiffs' bar becomes bolder, it is inevitable links to more sports will be alleged.
