

Our Members OACTA membership includes over 400 attorneys who focus their practices on the defense of civil litigation. Our diverse members range from solo practitioners to partners in large law firms with offices across the state and around the world. OACTA also includes claims counsel, general counsel, in-house-counsel, and executives of major insurance companies and global corporations. These members manage insurance claims and lawsuits, oversee litigation departments, and try cases all over Ohio and across the United States. By partnering with us, you can help our members provide superior client services with exceptional ethical integrity.
